Smart Practitioner offers a unique membership opportunity for behavioral health practitioners

Products, services, support, and tools to boost your career

Post Falls, ID (May 15, 2017) - Smart Practitioner announces its career services website for mental health professionals, launching May 15, 2017. Smart Practitioner services, information, and products designed to support mental health practitioners and enhance their career at every stage.

Behavioral health professionals are tasked with juggling a lot – from tracking your hours as an intern to managing your private practice, client lists and calendars, creating a website, keeping up with continuing education. . .

To let practitioners get back to what they do best – helping people - Smart Practitioner alleviates some of the stress by:

- Vetting and providing access to the best products and services for the modern mental health practitioner
- Hosting webinars led by industry leaders and professionals on everything from growing your practice to handling work/life balance
- Providing a secure, comfortable place to connect with peers in a targeted set of forums to exchange information, ask questions, and search common problems.

Smart Practitioner has already established several partnerships to immediately offer services to our members, from students to established practitioners:
